

ACL Activities/Programs List 2010 Overview

The "ACL Activities/Programs List 2010" was created to serve as a networking resource for ACL members to help identify and connect with colleagues who do similar activities or programs. The list could be particularly useful when an organization is determining whether or not to start a new venture and how they may go about developing it. The topics and contacts, while not extensive, were identified by survey response.

The list was generated from data received from the results of the ACL Consortial Characteristics Survey that was conducted beginning April 21, 2010 through the ACL listserv. Findings were presented during an August 18, 2010 ACL Professional Development Webinar entitled "Consortium and Center Diversity: Our Differences, Our Strengths."

The objectives of the study were to:

- 1) Share information about other consortia
- 2) Encourage directors to better understand and compare to an aggregate model
- 3) Add value to relationships with colleagues
- 4) Provide a reference piece about a "typical" consortium

Methodology included the following:

- 1) Google spreadsheets
- 2) Survey pilot test to ACL Board of Directors
- 3) Sent survey to 118 ACL members via the ACL listserv for directors to complete
- 4) Received 28 responses

Researchers:

ACL Professional Development Committee Members

Julie Goldman, Ed. D., Director, Southeastern Conference Academic Consortium
Anneke Larrance, Executive Director, Associated Colleges of the St. Lawrence Valley

ACL Research Committee Members

Susan Palmer, Ph. D., Executive Director, The Five Colleges of Ohio
